

Embassy of the United States of America
Research Unit

Difusión selectiva de documentos electrónicos
sobre seguridad y defensa en Estados Unidos
23 de marzo de 2017

Secretary Tillerson's Remarks: On the Attack in London

U.S. Department of State, Washington, DC
March 22, 2017

On behalf of the United States, I express my condolences to the victims and their families. The American people send their thoughts and prayers to the people of the United Kingdom. We condemn these horrific acts of violence, and whether they were carried out by troubled individuals or by terrorists, the victims know no difference.

Remarks by Secretary of State Tillerson at the Ministerial Plenary for the Global Coalition Working to Defeat ISIS

U.S. Department of State, Washington, DC
March 22, 2017

"Together, we share a resolve to deal ISIS or Daesh a lasting defeat. Our coalition is united in stopping an ISIS resurgence, halting its global ambitions and discrediting its ideological narrative. And we're ready to grow stronger and stay aggressive in this battle.

President Trump, in his recent address to the joint session of Congress, made clear that it is the policy of the United States to demolish and destroy this barbaric terrorist organization. That is what we are going to do."

Fact Sheet: The Global Coalition - Working to Defeat ISIS

U.S. Department of State, Washington, DC
March 22, 2017

Since its formation in 2014, the Global Coalition has worked diligently to reduce the threat ISIS poses to international security and our homelands. Coalition members are united in common cause to defeat ISIS through a robust approach, including working by, with, and through local partners for military operations; supporting the stabilization of territory liberated from ISIS; and, enhancing international cooperation against ISIS' global objectives through information sharing, law enforcement cooperation, severing ISIS' financing, countering violent extremist recruitment, and neutralizing ISIS' narrative.

The Coalition is also engaged in broad-based civilian efforts to provide humanitarian aid to communities suffering from displacement and conflict, and supporting stabilization efforts in territory liberated from ISIS. The Coalition's combined efforts have diminished ISIS' military capability, territorial gains, leadership, financial resources, and on-line influence.

Fact Sheet: U.S. Security Cooperation With Iraq

U.S. Department of State, Washington, DC

March 22, 2017

The United States is committed to building a strategic partnership with Iraq and the Iraqi people. Under the Strategic Framework Agreement between Iraq and the United States, we remain dedicated to helping Iraq improve security, maintain sovereignty, and defeat ISIS and other terrorist groups. U.S. security cooperation activities are increasing the Iraqi Security Forces' capability to respond to threats and conduct counter-terrorism operations, while supporting the long-term development of a modern, accountable, and professional Iraqi military capable of defending Iraq and its borders.

La coalición mundial está ganando

ShareAmerica

Los ministros de Asuntos Exteriores y altos funcionarios de 68 naciones y organizaciones internacionales se reúnen en Washington el 22 de marzo para dialogar sobre los esfuerzos de la coalición para derrotar a ISIS.

La reunión se produce en un momento clave para poner a ISIS en dirección perdurable e irreversible hacia la derrota. El secretario de Estado Rex Tillerson iniciará la reunión, que será la primera con los 68 integrantes de la Coalición Mundial desde diciembre de 2014.